

Injured When Shovel Crashes Through Bridge

Harold Smith of Shokan, Employee of County, Injured When Bridge on Wallkill-Crawford Highway Crashes Under Weight of Gasoline Shovel.

Harold Smith of Shokan, an employee of the county, was injured Thursday when a gasoline shovel, while he was operating on the highway washed through a steel span bridge on the Wallkill-Crawford highway near Red Mill on the Ulster-Columbia county line. At the Benedictine Hospital where Smith was brought following the accident it was learned he had sustained injuries to his leg. An X-ray examination will be made to determine the extent of the injuries.

At the time of the accident Smith was crossing the bridge which is an old loose construction iron span about 100 feet in length and has been in constant use for a long time. When his shovel was about two-thirds of the way across the bridge collapsed without warning and Smith and the shovel were thrown into the creek, a drop of about 15 feet. That he was not more seriously injured is most unusual.

The bridge is located about six miles from Wallkill at the county line in the town of Shawangunk. When the bridge gave way its construction permitted it to collapse and the structure now lies in the creek a jumbled mass of steel. The bridge has been in constant use and its condition was not in question. What caused it to give way Thursday has not been determined for loads equal to that which was placed upon it by the shovel have frequently passed over it. Traffic over the road will be held up until some substitute bridge is devised.

County Superintendent of Highways James F. Loughran made a trip of inspection today to the scene and action will be taken to provide some substitute for the residents of the locality.

Small Part of Liquor Canadian

Virtually 100 Per Cent of That Said To Be Smuggled Is by United States Citizens in United States Boats.

Ottawa, July 26 (P).—Solution of the problem of liquor smuggled from Canada into the United States, in the opinion of W. D. Euler, minister of national revenue, rests entirely with the American government.

Declaring that virtually 100 per cent of the smuggling is by United States citizens in United States boats, he suggested in a statement published today that the most effective means of combating the situation would be adoption by the American government of clearance regulations for all boats leaving the United States shore.

If this were done, the Canadian government would be "quite ready to consider any further reasonable measure of cooperation."

"If Canadian citizens and Canadian boats engaged in the traffic," he said, "the Canadian government would be prepared to enact legislation dealing with the matter, but surely some responsibility for the actions of their own citizens rests with the government of the United States."

Euler pointed out that all vessels leaving Canadian ports carrying merchandise, including liquor, must obtain clearances and that clearance to liquor boats cannot be refused except by act of Parliament.

He declared he opposed the enactment of such legislation as it would not stop the smuggling but merely tend to corrupt Canadians.

"As a matter of fact," he said, "according to evidence from the United States enforcement officers themselves only two per cent to five per cent of the liquor in the United States comes from Canada."

Four Drown in Lake at Ottawa

Ottawa, July 26 (P).—Four persons were drowned yesterday afternoon at Boulder's Lake, 22 miles north of Buckingham, Que., according to meagre information reaching here by long distance telephone.

They were: Mrs. J. J. Hignrove, Ottawa; Denis Hignrove, her nine year old son; Miss Mamie Tager, 11; Miss Irene Lamonte, Ottawa. The bodies of the victims except that of Miss Lamonte have been recovered. There were no eye-witnesses of the tragedy, but it was stated that the four had gone in bathing.

To Open Store Here.

The Murray Rubber Company of Trenton, New Jersey, manufacturers of tires and tubes with 1,000 chain stores in the south will open a store soon in this city at 415 Washington avenue. The Murray Company for 15 years manufactured tires for Sears-Robuck Company and recently branched out as independent retailers. W. J. Dunham will manage the local store.

William DuFlon Died Thursday

Well-Known Printer Had Been in the Employ of The Freeman For the Past 28 Years—Had Served the City as Alderman For Several Terms.

William Vanaken DuFlon of 143 Clinton avenue, died Thursday evening at the Benedictine Hospital where he had been taken following a stroke at his home several weeks ago. Shortly after being admitted to the hospital it was found necessary to amputate one of his legs in an effort to prolong his life. Mr. DuFlon for many years had been employed as foreman of the composing room of The Freeman.

When a youth Mr. DuFlon entered the employ of The Freeman in 1871, and during the fifty-eight years that have elapsed had proven an efficient and loyal employee of the newspaper. He entered the employ of The Freeman about the time that it became a daily newspaper.

During the more than half century that Mr. DuFlon was connected with The Freeman he saw many changes. At the time he became associated with the composing department all of the type was set by hand.

Mr. DuFlon was one of the few old time printers who were still in active harness, and his reminiscences of the early days of newspaper life in Kingston were interesting and entertaining.

Politically Mr. DuFlon was a staunch Republican and he served the city as an alderman for several terms.

Funeral services will be held at the chapel of A. Carr & Son, 1 Pearl street, on Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Interment in Wilkwyck cemetery. Friends wishing to view the remains may do so at the late residence on Clinton avenue on Sunday afternoon between the hours of 3 and 5 o'clock. He is survived by four children: Edna N., wife of Howard G. Sinsabaugh of Bloomfield, N. J.; Pearl A., wife of Arthur Every of Bloomfield, N. J.; William E. DuFlon of Brooklyn, and Alton H. DuFlon of Ridgefield, N. J.; one sister, Mrs. Emma Roosa of Hudson, and three brothers, Alfred, Charles and Frank DuFlon, all of this city, and five grandchildren.

Hoover's Stand Upheld by Law

White House Points Out 15 Cruiser Law as Result of Discussion Over President's Authority to Defect Construction.

Washington, July 26 (P).—Under President Hoover's interpretation of the 15 Cruiser Law, he is empowered to hold up the construction of any of the vessels authorized by that measure until June 30, 1931.

This was announced today at the White House. A section of the bill was pointed out as Mr. Hoover's authority for this stand. After stipulating that five cruisers each shall be laid down in the fiscal years of 1929, 1930 and 1931, the measure makes the following proviso:

"Provided, that if the construction of any vessel herein authorized to be undertaken in the fiscal year ending June 30, 1929, or 1930, is not undertaken in that fiscal year, such construction may be undertaken in the next succeeding fiscal year."

The White House took occasion to point this out today as a result of the discussion as to the President's authority to postpone the construction of cruisers. This arose after his announcement that the laying of the keels of three cruisers of this year's building program would be deferred until there were opportunity for consideration of their effect upon an agreement for final parity with Great Britain, which, Mr. Hoover said, he expected would be reached. Those favoring the time clause contended that the new building program would insure a start on all of the 15 cruisers and one aircraft carrier before July 1, 1931.

The position taken by President Hoover that the act gives the chief executive authority to hold up construction until the end of the period, or until June 30, 1931, if raised, was submerged by the contest over other provisions.

Blast Kills 6 British Marines

Valetta, Malta, July 26 (P).—Six marines were killed in an explosion in a gun turret aboard the British cruiser Devonshire in the eastern Mediterranean today. In addition 19 men were injured, some seriously.

The explosion, which is the second serious accident the British Navy has suffered recently, was said to have been caused by the blowing out of one of the cruiser's new six-inch guns. The whole turret was blown away.

The dead were all Royal Marines and included a captain, two sergeants, a corporal and two privates. Three others were in a critical condition.

Berger's Condition Grave.

Milwaukee, Wis., July 26 (P).—Despite carefully worded statements of attending physicians, grave concern was felt today for the life of Victor L. Berger, 69, former Socialist member of the national House of Representatives. He suffered a basal fracture of the skull when struck by a street car ten days ago.

Conference to Limit Navies Seems Certain

Washington, July 26 (P).—The number of signs pointing toward the convocation before next spring of a preliminary naval limitation conference of the world powers appear to Washington observers of international affairs to be multiplying with great rapidity.

Although official information on the subject is lacking, they draw their chief substance from analysis of the pronouncements made this week by President Hoover and Prime Minister MacDonald and meagre comments in other quarters generally well acquainted with such matters.

One of the signs into which the clearest indication of such a conference is being read is the action of President Hoover in postponing the construction of three cruisers which were to have been laid down this fall under the 15-cruiser program that became law last winter.

Under the terms of that law, he is given authority to postpone construction of the first five of the contemplated cruisers after June 30—the end of the current fiscal year—only in the event an international agreement on naval limitation is worked out. In the light of that provision, his action is interpreted in some quarters as indicating rather definitely that he expects such an agreement to be reached.

His manifest gratification over the early evidence that the Kellogg-Briand treaty for renunciation of war is having the desired effect throughout the world also is regarded as deeply significant and great importance also is attached to his announcement Tuesday of preparations, through a commission of general staff officers, to find a way to reduce the government's expenditure for maintenance of its army.

Still another sign that foundations already have been laid for a preliminary naval conference is visualized on the basis of Secretary Stimson's explanation of the principle of parity agreed upon by Prime Minister MacDonald and Ambassador Dawes as an outcome of their discussions in England.

That principle of parity in naval strength as between the United States and Great Britain, the secretary announced, means absolute equality of fighting strength in the two navies, applying not only to capital ships and aircraft carriers, for which it was established at the 1922 arms conference, but to all "cruisers and the other categories of vessels which constitute those navies."

The question of parity of ships of 10,000 tons or less has been a troublesome one since the 1922 conference in Washington.

In addition to cruisers, the classes of ships to which the British-American parity principle was not applied in the 1922 agreement include destroyers, submarines and other auxiliary craft, and a number of members of congress have frequently expressed the view that all must be brought within a limitation program if it is to become fully effective.

Paul V. McNutt, commander of the American Legion, in a telegram to the President protesting against "any action" which will prevent "in any way the regaining by America of our lost parity with Great Britain," held that this could be accomplished only by continued cruiser building by America or extended cruiser scrapping by Great Britain or by a combination of these methods.

BUS AND AUTO COLLIDE IN NAPANOCH

Ellenville, July 26.—When the Graham-White-Ellenville bus and a sedan collided Monday afternoon at the Keider corner, Napanoch, six persons were injured, one seriously. The bus was driven by Oscar Douglas and the sedan was owned and operated by Louis Rosenstock of Ellenville. The accident occurred about 3 o'clock.

Mr. Rosenstock's 4 1/2 year old son, Jerome, sustained a cut under the right ear. He was taken to the Veterans Memorial Hospital, from which he was discharged Wednesday morning. The lad was in a weakened condition because of the loss of a great quantity of blood. Passengers on the bus who were slightly injured were:

Jessie S. Grant of Whitehouse, Long Island, minor bruises. Harry Barnes, of New York city, minor bruises. Rabbi Nathan Ringel, of Brooklyn, injury to right shin. William Diamond, Montella, abrasions to back of right hand.

SAYS PRESIDENT IS KEEPING HANDS OFF

Washington, July 26 (P).—Contrary to suggestions which have been widely expressed, Chairman Smoot wants it to be known that the Republicans of the senate finance committee are working independently of the White House in their present task of rewriting the house tariff bill.

President Hoover, he says, is pursuing a hands off policy, and except that they are following the general formula for tariff revision which he laid down in his message to the special session of congress, the committee Republicans are acting independently in their deliberations. That general formula called for "limited revision" of the existing Fordney-McCumber tariff with a view particularly to giving greater protection to agricultural products and to some other commodities found insufficiently protected.

Selecting Site For Proposed New Armory

Franklin T. Ward, adjutant general of New York state, was here today to pick a site for the proposed new armory to be built in Kingston. His choice is expected to be announced shortly. It will be made from either the place where the present armory stands, the Barman lot on Greenhill avenue, the territory in the vicinity of the O. & W. railroad station or the site where the First Battalion, 156th Field Artillery, stables are now situated on Manor avenue.

In inspecting the proposed sites.

Dry Enforcement After 500 Hour Flight Record

Headquarters Transferred From Providence by Special Officer Golding—Will Work Independently of Captain Dengler.

Prohibition enforcement for the northeast now centers in Albany with the opening of offices there by George E. Golding, special officer. That of Captain Dengler, who has been in the Albany prohibition district administrator's office since the Broadway Arcade. Golding's office was moved from Providence, R. I., and has charge of major prohibition violations, narcotics and customs laws and tariff acts in New York state, except New York city, and in New England. Sub-offices are located in Buffalo, Boston and Providence.

A squad of agents whose number and identity is kept secret works under Golding. Cases of large diversion of industrial alcohol for beverage purposes, illicit manufacture of beer, come under this office. Mr. Golding works independent of the Albany prohibition personnel, now temporarily under the direction of Capt. Harry Dengler. Earle Kohler of San Francisco is assistant to Golding and one of the duties of the new office is to keep check on dry agents in this district. Golding, who is known as a special agent, works directly under Commissioner of Prohibition James Doran at Washington.

McCarthy Heads Police Chiefs

State Convention Closes at Cortland—Rochester Gets Convention in 1930—Chief of Police Wood in Attendance.

Chief of Police T. D. McCarthy of Utica was selected as president of the New York State Association of Police Chiefs at the closing session of the annual convention held in Cortland on Thursday, and the city of Rochester was selected as the place for holding the 1930 convention of the association. Chief of Police J. Allan Wood, of the Kingston police department, attended the sessions.

Officers elected to serve on the staff with Chief McCarthy are Chiefs A. W. Skidmore of Mineola, first vice president; R. R. Gilson of Lackawanna, and J. N. Hartman of Freeport, second and third vice presidents, respectively; J. L. Hyatt of Albany secretary-treasurer; F. G. Jenkins of Glens Falls, member of the board of governors; and T. R. Bacon of Rockville Center, sergeant-at-arms.

Chief E. J. Singleton of Watertown, speaking in behalf of the association, paid tribute to Secretary Hyatt, who has retained his post for twenty-five years, and presented him with a chair as a testimonial of the association's regard.

BAROGRAPH OF HOUSTON PLANE CEASES TO WORK.

Houston, Texas, July 26 (P).—The fear that a technicality might defeat their attempt to establish a refueling endurance record beset pilots Glenn L. Loomis and Joe E. Glass as they circled Houston early today in their monoplane "Billion Dollar City."

Just before the monoplane passed its 203rd hour aloft at 12:49:54 a. m. its barograph ceased functioning. This the fliers had anticipated and officials in Washington were asked to permit them to take a disinterested third man aboard or make a dash for another airport in the event of bad weather here.

Under the regulations, strictly interpreted, the barograph being out, no record set would be official should Loomis and Glass depart from sight of the Houston field.

Ambulance Calls Here.

Thursday the city ambulance removed Mrs. Roberts from the Kingston Hospital to 34 Lafayette avenue, and Tony Gillespie from the City Home to the Benedictine Hospital.

Adjutant General Ward was accompanied by State Senator Arthur H. Wicks of this city, Captain John A. Coffey, officer in charge of plans and structures in the adjutant general's office, Colonel Raphael A. Egan of the 156th Field Artillery, New York National Guard, who resides in Newburgh and Major O. R. Hiltbrant of this city, commanding officer of the First Battalion, 156th Field Artillery. Major Hiltbrant, who thoroughly understands the need of a new armory, suited for artillery purposes, has a set of tentative plans ready for the new armory.

General Drought Conditions Cause Apprehension

Washington, July 26 (P).—After a crop curtailing heat wave and drought conditions sweeping over many of the world's agricultural regions apparently are spreading into other sections which have been enjoying more favorable weather.

As the unusually hot, dry month of August approaches, reports received by government agricultural and weather officials indicate drought conditions and excessive hot weather predominating in Europe, England, Southern China, Australia, Argentina, Western Canada, and in Northwestern Spring Wheat, Central and New England states.

The outlook for the United States as weather officials see it is for those abnormal conditions to cover other areas shortly with little relief indicated. However, the general situation is believed not to have reached a stage where there is cause for great alarm, though it is feared that unless precipitation comes soon much harm may be done.

The mean temperature in England for this week is described as "above normal in all districts; rainfall decidedly subnormal." Slightly better conditions existed in European countries, where more moisture was received.

The water famine situation at Hong Kong has brought about a serious condition for a vast agricultural area near that South China seaport, while the grain crop in the Shanghai section is thought not to be up to normal.

Australia has received some much needed rain, while heavy precipitations in India have had damaging effects. Argentina is dry in the corn and wheat zone, with temperature averaging about four per cent above normal.

Somewhat pessimistic reports from the Canadian provinces of Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba say rain has been "far below normal and soil generally dry, with more than half of wheat acreage varying from rather poor to only fair; remainder divided between very poor and quite good."

The week ended Wednesday, the bureau announced, "was the driest of the season so far" in this country. It said "precipitation was light with many stations reporting no rain for the entire week." States west of the Mississippi with widespread high maximum temperatures, ranging from two to six degrees above the previous high records.

"Rain is needed," the bureau went on, "especially in the northern and more northwestern sections where continued dryness and high temperatures were very unfavorable to crops. Moisture is needed also in the interior of the Pacific northwest."

The persistently hot, dry weather in the northern spring wheat area, it reported, caused further crop deterioration "and many fields have been abandoned or cut for fodder."

Investigating Double Drowning

Ellenville, July 26.—Foul play and suicide theories are being investigated concerning the double drowning at Ulster Lake on the morning of July 14, when Ruben Burd, 21, of Brooklyn, was reported to have lost his life in an attempt to save Sam Reiss, 21, also of Brooklyn. There are two investigations.

Assistant District Attorney Murray is conducting one investigation, with reference to the possibility of foul play. Another is by insurance companies who are delving into a suicide theory.

The witnesses to the drowning and others interested might be asked to appear before the September grand jury, Mr. Murray stated. The trial will be in the nature of a John Doe investigation. David Swartzberg, 24, of Brooklyn, who witnessed the drowning, was called again before Mr. Murray and told the same story related to Sergeant John A. Hopkins and Trooper Arthur Reilly at the scene of the drowning July 14.

NEW YORK MAN FORFEITED $25 BAIL IN COURT HERE

Paul Weinstock of New York city who was arrested on July 21, charged with passing to the left of a traffic standard and speeding 38 miles an hour on Broadway, forfeited $25 cash today when he failed to appear in police court to answer to the charges.

Senator Edge Selected as New Envoy at Paris

Washington, July 26 (P).—After a special session of Congress—Name of Ambassador to Italy To Succeed Fletcher Woodruff.

Washington, July 26 (P).—President Wilson's latest diplomatic move, the selection of Senator Charles Edge as ambassador to Italy, was announced today. The senator, who is a member of the senate finance committee, is to go to Senator Walker of New Jersey. A successor also has been selected to Henry C. Carter, who recently resigned as ambassador to Italy, but his name as announced will not be accepted by the Italian government.

Senator Edge will remain here until after the close of the special session of Congress, as he is a member of the senate finance committee handling the tariff revision bill. In many many industries in his state have a vital interest.

With the special session now expected to end by the middle of October, Mr. Edge probably will leave around November 1 to take up official residence in the French capital, where as a private citizen, he spent much of his time for twelve years before the war looking after the business interests he had there.

To the New Jersey senator, who was foremost among the Hoover supporters in the pre-convention campaign and was until he retired from the field a candidate for the vice presidential nomination, goes what is regarded generally in diplomatic circles as the second most important diplomatic appointment within the gift of the president.

Senator Edge probably will be succeeded in the Senate by David Baird, Jr., a Republican leader of New Jersey. Governor Morgan F. Larson has stated publicly that he would name Baird should Senator Edge's resignation reach him within less than thirty days before the New Jersey general election in November.

Should the resignation be submitted before October 6, the vacancy would have to be filled in the November election under the terms of the state law.

Entering the Senate only ten years ago, Senator Edge rose rapidly in party councils. Besides being a member of the finance committee, he also holds places on the foreign relations, banking and currency and privileges and elections committees.

As chairman of the intercanal committee, he sponsored the bill providing for the survey of the Nicaraguan canal route. He has been a staunch administration man and is regarded as one of the Hoover spokesmen in the Senate.

Pope Felt the Extreme Heat

Rome, July 26 (P).—Belief was expressed in some quarters today that Pope Pius would follow his emergence from the Vatican yesterday shortly with actual emergence from his new small state onto Italian soil.

The Pontiff was known today to have felt the heat of Rome's extreme summer. Yesterday's ceremony in the courtyard of St. Peter's was trying, because of the heat, not only to the crowd, but to His Holiness as well.

It was understood that his physicians have urged the Pontiff to spend at least a fortnight on the lofty ecclesiastical retreat at Monte Cassino, where he has desired to go for a long time. There has of course been no indication as to what action he will take on their advice.

The heat wave has been as bad in Milan as in Rome, thus precluding a visit to his former diocese, another project known to be dear to the Pontiff's heart.

His exit yesterday from his quarters in the Vatican was the talk of all Rome today. The 200,000 or more fortunate eyewitnesses had audiences everywhere in relating first hand accounts of the impressive ceremony.

WURTS STREET BAPTIST CHURCH BUSINESS MEETING

A special business meeting of the congregation of Wurts Street Baptist Church has been called for Sunday morning after the regular service at which time the board of trustees will report on the advisability of re-decorating the church auditorium and the installation of a modern lighting system. The pastor hopes for a large attendance to vote on these very important matters.

Flashes of Life Sketched in Brief

(By The Associated Press)

New York—Now come taxicabs with radio. A sample car with a six tube set and loud speaker and antennae in the roof has been shown to the police for approval. Use of the radio does not make the clock go faster.

Montclair, N. J.—The collar button record is getting to be like those for endurance fights. The other day a fellow in Linden, N. J., said he had worn the same one 49 years. Along comes Andrew H. Wilson of Montclair and deposits that his prize button's age is 51.

New York—Charmed by a voice over the air, a baroness has given up her title for love. The marriage is disclosed of Theodor Alban, who sings on the WEAF chain Saturday nights, to Baroness Esme de Laudin. The wedding, two years ago, was kept secret at the wish of the bride's father, the last of a French line, who desired her to marry a nobleman. He died recently. The baroness met Alban through a letter sent to a radio station in praise of his singing.

London—Jack Hayes, ex-police-man, now vice-chamberlain of the royal household, appointed by the Labor government, wears a red carnation daily. He had one, and also a silk hat, at Queen Mary's garden party at which Ambassador Dawes was a guest. Ben Smith, former taxi driver, now treasurer of the royal household, also was there with a topper.

Portland, Me.—Harry W. Adams, Los Angeles merchant, is striving in Casco Bay to catch a bigger tuna than Zane Grey's 700-pounder landed at Catalina Island. With rod and line Adams has caught a 545-pounder here.

New York—For rent a nice apartment at $45.00 a year. It comprises the three top floors of the new 32-story Hotel Delmonico on Park Avenue. The price is the highest yet. The owner has three prospects, including an author.

London—One of the ten most interesting men in the world, in the opinion of George Bernard Shaw, is Leon Trotsky.

New York—American movies are to be responsible for more comfortable voyaging in tropical climates. Impressed by the refrigerated air system used in New York film houses Mario Consulich, engineer of the steamship line which bears his name, is to install such a system on a new ship to be operated between Italy and Egypt.

Coon Cat Adopts Baby

Foxes on Master's Farm
Holbrook, Mass.—The credit for one of the strangest "adoptions" on record belongs to "Betty," an intelligent coon cat, and her master, Lester Wilson of this town, owner of a silver fox ranch, who has persuaded "Betty" to nurse three little silver black foxes besides one of her own children.
This strange exhibition of mother love pleases Wilson, who may be indebted to "Betty" in $500 or more, the value of the trio of "reynards" if they survive.

The cat loves the little black fellows as though they were her own, and by sharing the family milk supply with them, has tided them over to the point where there is good reason to hope they will survive.

"One morning a month ago I visited the pen and discovered the trio of new-born pups," Wilson related. "The next morning it appeared that the mother of the pups could not nurse them. I was at my wit's end to know how to solve the problem. Then I recalled that my pet cat had had a litter of kittens the previous day."

"Although I believed there was only one chance in a hundred that the cat could be persuaded to nurse the foxes, I resolved to try out the experiment. I took all except one of the kittens away from the cat. I took one of the little fellows and cuddled him beside the cat. The first move was made by Betty. She sniffed the strange baby, then she kissed him, and the battle was won."

Dune Leaves Town It

Buried 400 Years Ago

Keele, Germany.—After having been buried 400 years under a giant wandering dune, the Saxon village Lomke on the Baltic shore is being given up by the sand mountains. In-surrendering sands, including homes from the thirteenth century, are being made in the first buildings which have disappeared. Summer guests at seaside resorts are flocking to Lomke to view the spectacle.

The giant dune, the wandering of which centuries of effort have been unable to retard, engulfed the village around the year 1560. Since then it has slowly traveled on and is now on the opposite side of the Saxon settlement.

Sunday School Teacher

Has 15-Year Record

Waterville, Ore.—H. A. Hyde, prominent local farmer and teacher of a Sunday school class at the First Methodist church here, prides himself on the record he has established for teaching a class every Sunday for the last 15 years. Even when Hyde broke his leg and was confined to his home he notified the class of his injuries and Sunday morning at the regular hour the class members presented themselves at his home.

Wisconsin has 57 varieties of forest trees. The oak leads.

Paintings by H. Leith-Ross

An exhibition of paintings by H. Leith-Ross is being shown at The Little Art Gallery in Woodstock this week.

H. Leith-Ross is one of the younger painters at Woodstock who paints in the academic manner; his work was exhibited last winter in many New York galleries; at the Salama-zundi Club on Fifth avenue during that gallery's annual auction, several of his oil paintings sold for good prices.

In the present show, which included some two dozen landscapes, there is an Autumn scene of "Ashokan Reservoir" that should appeal to any Kingston resident. The coloring is bright; the painting would make an artistic piece for any wall. Another of the paintings that stands out is "Shady Post Office," a winter scene in which the snow and the shadows are depicted with true feeling. "The Harbour in Winter," is in a sober mood, with excellent painting by the artist. Other subjects range from "June Skies" to "Blizzards," and offer a wide variety of oil paintings of all sizes and descriptions.

For those who dislike what is called "modern" art, the Leith-Ross pictures should please immensely; this artist never offends; his pictures can be understood and appreciated by all. Visitors to Woodstock this week will be interested to call at the Jones "Little Gallery," which is open daily. The next show to be held in this one-man series, will be an exhibition of oil paintings by Boyer Gonzales, a one-time intimate of Winslow Homer, which will remain hung from July 29 to August 2.

Magnificent View

From the Rigi, famous Swiss mountain, a view of 200 miles in every direction is seen from the top. Rigi is about eight miles from Lucerne.

Washington's Newspapers

Most of the United States newspapers publish their own weekly, and the names of these papers are in most cases novel. There are the Bone-Guest, Plane Talk, Arklight, Tarn, Lucky Bag, Keystone, the Log and the Minute Man. The circulation of these papers reaches every part of the country, since many of the enlisted men send them home.

QUAKER STATEMENTS

It's true that there gets an extra quart of lubricant in every gallon of Quaker State Motor Oil. For by special refining, a quart of waste material found in each gallon of ordinary oil, is removed from each gallon of Quaker State. In its stead there gets a quart of finest lubricant—in truth an extra quart in every gallon!

Daily Thought
Cast forth thy act, thy word, into the ever-living, ever-living universe.
It is a seed-grain that cannot die; unnoticed today, it will be found flourishing as a beauteous grove (perhaps, also, as a hemlock forest), after a thousand years.—Thomas Carlyle.

Bremen After

Eastward Record

New York, July 26 (P.A.)—Having captured the westward record for transatlantic steamship travel, the North German Lloyd liner Bremen will attempt to lower the eastward time on her return trip upon which she will sail at 1 o'clock tomorrow morning.
A record of four days, 19 hours and 55 minutes from New York to Plymouth was made last January by the Cunarder Mauretania, which held all records for Atlantic crossings until the Bremen arrived here last Monday.
The eastward voyage usually is made in less time than the west because of the aid of the gulf stream.

Famous Painting
Gainsborough's picture, "The Blue Boy," is a portrait of Jonathan But-tall, son of a rich London merchant, and it was painted in 1770. Blue and brown predominate. According to tradition, Gainsborough painted it to confute the dictum of Sir Joshua Reynolds in his eighth "Discourse," in which he said in part: "It ought to be indispensably observed that the massages of flesh in a picture be always of a warm mellow color, yellow, red or a yellowish white, and that the blue, the gray or the green colors be kept almost entirely out of these masses and be used only to support or set off these warm colors." Let the light be cold and the surrounding color warm, as we often see in the works of the Roman and Florentine painters, and it will be out of the power of art, even in the hands of Rubens and Titian, to make a picture splendid and harmonious."

Indian Tribes Shifted
From 1817 to 1840, the great southern tribes of Indians were removed to the Indian territory from Georgia, Alabama, Florida and Mississippi.
These tribes were the Cherokees, Choctaws, Chickasaws, Creeks and Seminole. These Indians held slaves and during the Civil war all of these tribes joined the Confederacy. They were compelled by the treaties of 1866 to cede to the United States much of their western lands upon which they had established no settlements, as a home for friendly Indians of other tribes.

Trumpeter's Gait
A trumpeter during a battle ventured too near the enemy and was captured by them. They were about to proceed to put him to death when he begged them to hear his plea for mercy. "I do not fight," said he, "and indeed carry no weapon; I only blow this trumpet, and surely that cannot harm you; then why should you kill me?" "You may not fight, yourself," said the others, "but you encourage and guide your men to the fight."
Words may be deadly.—Aesop.

GREGORY & COMPANY, 661-663-665
BROADWAY,
KINGSTON, N. Y.

Self-praise is a good deal like riding on a merry-go-round. It satisfies our personal desire, but it never gets us anywhere.

Johnny Bull: We have some very large birds in England. Once while I was standing in a zoological garden, I saw a man riding on an ostrich.

Yankee Doodle: Brother, that's nothing. Once while I was standing in a ball park I saw a player go out on a fly.

Blinks: Wait a minute, I'm going to start a garden tonight and I have to stop in the drug store.

Jinks: Huh. You can't buy seeds in there, can you?

Blinks: It's a porous plaster for my back, not seeds, I buy here.

The part ywho has trouble making both ends meet should be excused for going on a diet.

Once upon a time a man got an olive out of a bottle without swearing. You can tell one now.

The Chicago Police System—Just one crook after another.

Why is it that most towns lie about their population?

"Johnny, stop poking little Edward."

"I ain't pokin' him. Ma, I'm counting his measles."

New Minister: "You should see the altar in our church."

Village Spinster: "Lead me to it."

"See dat," cried the Town Bully, shaking his fist under the newcomer's nose. "What would you do if you had a fist like that?"

"I'd wash it," replied the newcomer calmly.

Wife—Why do you look so happy, John? Did that envelope contain a check?

Hub—No, but it didn't contain a bill.

Women, as a rule are brave, but few of them are brave enough to wear a dress or hat that's not in style.

If you want to get rich surely, don't try to get rich quickly.

You can easily sell things on the installment plan that you can't give away.

Hint to husbands: It is dangerous to talk back to your wife. She might hear you.

Girls should remember that a love knot is best tied with a single beau.

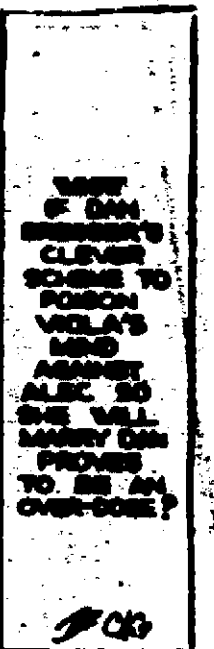

If you have ever patronized a dentist you may thank your stars that you are not a shark. It is said that the whale shark has eighty rows of three hundred teeth each, 24,000 in all.

A girl is supposed to learn a lot of things before she gets married, but all a young man is expected to learn is how to make a lot of money.

Anybody can start on a vacation in good spirits; but most people come home broke.

GAS BUGGIES—The Blow Fall.

DAWES PULLS DOWN 'NO SMOKING' SIGN.

London (P).—Charles G. Dawes, the man who wanted the senate to reform its rules, already has put through one reform in the American embassy since he became ambassador. That "No Smoking" sign in the embassy reception room has been removed.

Ambassador Dawes was chatting with a group of newspapermen in his office, smoking, as usual, his famous underslung pipe, when one of the group suddenly asked:

"Do you mind if we smoke, Mr. Ambassador?"

"Certainly not," replied Dawes with a puzzled smile, adding, "Surely you gentlemen don't feel under any restraint here?"

The sign in the reception room was described to him.

"What?" he exclaimed. "I hadn't seen it. We'll institute a reform right now and have that sign removed."

Kiss in Court to Prove Innocence of Embrace

Paris.—Saturin Fabre will be asked to kiss Mme. France-Elyse in court before his wife, her husband, three learned judges and a roomful of onlookers.

He must kiss her as he kissed her once before, knowing that at the last smack the court will decide whether or not his osculatory exhibit is an outrage against public decency.

Fabre is an actor and the last time his lips touched those of Mme. France-Elyse, which happened to be during the love scene in a frothy farce, a cry of indignation rent the theater. It came neither from Mme. Fabre, nor the actress' husband but M. Tallet, architect, who was a disinterested spectator.

THE PERILS OF MASS PRODUCTION

Before a parked car, Johnny, with considerable pride, called his chum's attention to a particular rivet. "See that rivet, my father drove that," Johnny was right. It was very important that the rivet be made perfectly secure. But the other side of the picture never occurred to Johnny's youthful mind. The driving of that rivet was Johnny's father's only responsibility. Hour after hour, through the whole day's work, for five days in the week, Johnny's father drove that rivet; and he will continue to do so until a mechanical device is invented which can do it as well, if not better than Johnny's father.

Three perils have developed from mass production. Human labor has become so mechanical that in many cases men have become mere machines, with the inevitable danger that monotonous labor may leave both mind and heart with little or no desire to take advantage of the leisure which the five-day week affords. Another peril is supplanting man-labor-machines—thus throwing out of employment many persons who must seek labor in less remunerative fields because their capacity had been limited to the performance of one particular act. An equally serious peril is the possibility of an over-supplied market.

The chairman of the Federal Trade Commission in a recent address, suggested that "government price control may be the penalty of industry's failure to solve the problem of over-production." The man who labors in the shop, as well as the stockholder, must be given a fair return for service rendered, otherwise prosperity is in serious peril. Labor is no longer content with a mere living wage, but demands a reasonable share of the prosperity it helps to produce.

Age of Civilization

Excavations in Palestine revealed the city of Ur, mentioned in the Book of Genesis, showing it to have flourished at least 5000 B. C. A great treasure house and palaces were discovered, also skyscrapers, much delicate and fine jewelry and paintings and sculpture, showing that civilization is older than the advent of Christ.

How's this for a hot-weather dinner?

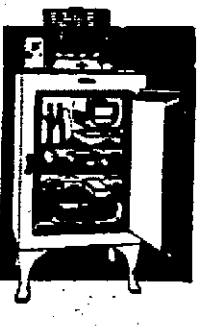

One of these evenings, when you're exhausted from the heat and nothing tastes good, how would you like to sit down to a dinner like this? An ice-cold fruit cup, jellied chicken and ham, a salad of crisp lettuce with a stuffed tomato in aspic. And, for dessert, a strawberry sundae.

Tempting, isn't it? And so pleasantly easy to prepare. Then your General Electric Refrigerator will do the rest.

Fifty degrees is accepted by scientists as the "danger point" in the preservation of food. When the temperature rises even a degree or two above that, bacteria multiply, foods become unsafe to eat—a menace to health. In the General Electric Refrigerator the temperature is automatically kept several degrees below fifty—always.

Now, in addition to all its previously proved superiorities, General Electric offers an all-steel warp-proof cabinet! There are now more than 300,000 General Electric Refrigerator users and not one has spent a single dollar for repairs.

Prices on the new all-steel models start at $215 at the factory. See them at our display rooms.

Tune in on the General Electric Hour broadcast every Saturday evening 8 to 9 Eastern Standard Time over the N. B. C. network of 43 stations.

Proposed Change In Grape Grading

Tentative Modifications in Present Rules Submitted for Criticism and Suggestion—Changes Favorable to the Grower.

As the result of one year's experience, it has seemed desirable to make certain changes in the official state grades for grapes which were enforced last season. These are mainly the result of conferences which have been held with grape growers and shippers in various parts of the state, and will be found embodied in the revised copy of the grades which follows. It will be noted that these changes are mostly of a minor sort, the most important being a more liberal interpretation in regard to mildew in the U. S. No. 1 Juice Grade, and a greater tolerance in this grade for general defects. The U. S. No. 1 Table Grade is also made somewhat more lenient in regard to mildew. These changes at present are tentative only, and are being offered for comment. If they appear to meet general approval, they will be put into effect during the coming season, under the authority conferred by Article 13-B of the Agriculture and Markets Law. Formal announcement in this connection will be made during the latter part of August.

The proposed new regulations are as follows:
U. S. Fancy Table Grapes shall consist of grapes of one variety which are well colored, mature, firmly attached to capstems, not shattered, split, crushed, dried, wet or soft; which are free from mold, de-ray, mildew, berry moth, russeting, hail, and from damage caused by freezing, disease, insects or other means. Not less than 75 per cent of the bunches shall be compact and the remainder shall be fairly compact. Bunches shall not be excessively small excepting that compact portions of bunches consisting of no less than five (5) berries may be used to fill open spaces between whole bunches.

In order to allow for variations incident to proper grading and handling, not more than a total of 10 per cent, by weight, of the berries in any lot may be below the requirements of this grade but no more than 5 per cent shall be allowed for serious damage. Of this tolerance for serious damage not more than 2 per cent shall be allowed for dried berries and not more than 1 per cent may be affected by mold or decay. In addition, not more than 5 per cent, by weight, of any lot may consist of bunches which are straggly.

U. S. No. 1 Table Grapes shall consist of grapes of one variety which are fairly well colored, mature, firmly attached to capstems, not shattered, split, crushed, dried, wet or soft, which are free from mold, decay, berry moth, and from damage caused by mildew, russeting, hail, freezing, disease, insects or other means. Not less than 85 per cent of the bunches shall be fairly compact.

In order to allow for variations incident to proper grading and handling, not more than a total of 10 per cent, by weight, of the berries in any lot may be below the requirements of this grade, but not more than 5 per cent shall be allowed for serious damage. Of this tolerance for serious damage not more than 2 per cent shall be allowed for dried berries and not more than 2 per cent may be affected by mold or decay.

U. S. No. 1 Juice Grapes shall consist of grapes of one variety which are fairly well colored, mature, firmly attached to capstems, not shattered, split, crushed, dried, wet or soft, which are free from mold, decay, berry moth, and from serious damage caused by mildew, russeting, hail, freezing, disease, insects or other means. Not less than 60 per cent of the bunches shall be fairly compact.

In order to allow for variations incident to proper grading and handling, not more than a total of 15 per cent, by weight, of the berries in any lot may be below the requirements of this grade but not more than 6 per cent shall be allowed for berries which are seriously damaged and not more than one-half of this amount of 3 per cent may be affected by mold or decay.

Mixed Varieties.

Any lot of grapes consisting of more than one variety which meets all other requirements of "U. S. Fancy Table", "U. S. No. 1 Table" or "U. S. No. 1 Juice" may be designated as "U. S. Fancy Table Mixed", "U. S. No. 1 Table Mixed", "U. S. No. 1 Juice Mixed".

Ungraded. Grapes which are not graded in conformity with the foregoing grades may be designated as "Ungraded".

Definitions of Terms.

As used in these grades: "Mature" means that the grapes are juicy, palatable and have reached that stage of development at which the skin of the berry easily separates from the pulp. Frozen or slightly frozen stock should not be confused with mature stock.

"Well colored" means that the berries shall show full color characteristic of the variety.

"Fairly well colored" means that not less than 75 per cent, by weight, shall show full color characteristic of the variety. 25 per cent may show partially or poorly colored berries which are not characteristic of immature berries.

"Shattered berries" means berries which have separated from the bunch.

"Compact bunches" means well filled bunches, with no open spaces.

"Fairly compact" means that the berries are well filled, but that the berries are not closely spaced as in "Compact bunches."

"Damage" means any injury which materially affects the appearance or the edible or shipping quality. Mildew which affects the appearance of the berries shall be considered as damage, but berries shall not be regarded as damaged by mildew which are firmly attached to the stems and which have only slight traces of mildew on the inside of the bunch where it does not affect the appearance of the berries.

"Serious damage" means that the defects taken singly or collectively seriously affect the market quality.

"Straggly" means a decidedly open bunch with large open spaces and very few berries. Small immature berries characteristic of the Warden variety should be disregarded unless they are excessive in number and detract materially from the appearance of the lot.

Early Risers To Get Emblems

The Early Risers Club which meets at the "Y" Boys' Division every Wednesday morning at 6:30 will receive emblems at the end of the course. Through the courtesy of the association a red embroidered triangle with a blue eagle on a white center and white letters YMCA on the red triangle has been prepared as a suitable emblem for this club. It will be necessary for a boy to attend the remaining sessions of the club and to pass a Biblical examination on "Men Who Dared" before they will become the proud possessor of this emblem. So far quite a number have made themselves eligible for the award. However, there is still time for the boys who have not come to the meetings yet to obtain one of the Eagle Triangles.

The club took up the study of Noah at the session last Wednesday and decided that Noah was a real hero in obeying the demands of his God even when others thought that he was radicalistic.

The Gold Star Club is also causing some comment at the Boys' Division and nearly all of the boys are striving to obtain the necessary three new members required in order that they may become a member of the club.

About 14 boys, together with three of the leaders spent Tuesday night at Mount Tremper. This is one of the activities engaged in at the "Y" boys' camp, Camp Freemaker. The "Y" camp will close on August 2.

NASH '400'

LEADS THE WORLD IN MOTOR CAR VALUE

"400" Advanced Six Ambassador

$2061.00

Delivered, Fully Equipped,
Nothing More to Buy!

THE AMBASSADOR BY NASH —TWIN-IGNITION-MOTORED

THOUSANDS of people who drive the Twin-Ignition-motored Nash "400" Ambassador have discovered that the most luxurious type of motoring is not necessarily prohibitive in price.

Obvious to every eye is the style and thoroughbred character of this charming motor car. There is beauty in the purity and grace of every line and curve. There is luxury in every inch of interior dress and decoration, from inlaid walnut panelings to the deep, overstuffed cushions, upholstered in fabrics restricted to fine car manufacture.

And equally obvious, to those who know good motor cars, is the high quality of "400" engineering and Ambassador performance. Here, in this moderately priced car, is the Twin-Ignition motor, the year's most notable achievement in power. Another very attractive "400" feature is the "world's easiest steering."

And the Ambassador is one of the easiest riding cars ever built. The wheelbase is 130 inches. The springs are built of special process alloy steel, individually designed for Ambassador size and weight, and advanced Houdaille double action, hydraulic shock absorbers are regular equipment.

Other features of convenience and quality which Nash volume makes it possible for you to have at Ambassador price, are Bijur Centralized Chassis Lubrication and Chromium-nickel bumpers front and rear—at no extra charge.

Volume and its manufacturing economies plus Nash engineering skill make possible this value. More than 100,000 Nash "400" were built and sold in the 12 months (just ended) since the "400" introduction.

Delivered, Fully Equipped Price Range of 28 Nash "400" models $975 to $2,061 includes Touring, Roadster, Coupe, Cabriolet, Victoria and Sedan Models

TYDOL ETHYL

ZERO KNOCK RATING GASOLINE

Are you bothered by the constant ping, ping, ping of a noisy motor?

Fade it to zero . . . with the new TYDOL ETHYL.

Are you aggravated by a labored pound, pound, pound, when you're climbing hills?

Fade it to zero . . . with the new TYDOL ETHYL.

Are you tired of the spiteful knock, knock, knock, when you're plowing through mud and sand?

Fade it to zero . . . with the new TYDOL ETHYL.

For, like a lullaby quieting a cranky babe, this new Zero Knock Rating Gasoline will hush to sleep every protesting zing and pound of a stress-resenting engine. It stops the knock by removing the cause . . . by substituting the silent, powerful push of a silken fuel for the violent "hammer-blows" of ordinary gasolines.

For the new TYDOL ETHYL is an all-star combination of two of the greatest motor fuel advances of the decade. Hi-test TYDOL, the high-test, super-power, anti-knock fuel that has taken all motordom by storm. And ETHYL, the undisputed leader of anti-knock compounds.

With the smooth and mighty power-thrust of Hi-test TYDOL has been merged the famous "knock the knock" magic of ETHYL . . . forming a new super fuel with an absolute ZERO knock rating.

TYDOL ETHYL is a fuel for the car owner who demands the very best and will take no substitutes. And why should he? It costs but 3c more per gallon than ordinary gasolines.

Make a 10 Gallon Test

The next time you need gasoline drive up to a TYDOL ETHYL pump and try out ten gallons of this modern fuel. It will only cost you 30c more than 10 gallons of ordinary gas.

No more . . . perhaps less . . . than you have been paying for other premium gasolines.

But in any event, 30c is a small amount to gamble to prove to yourself just what a zero knock rating gasoline will do in your own car.

KNOCK RATING OF 6 PROMINENT PREMIUM GASOLINES

These 3 cent premium gasolines were tested on the Midgley (Bouncing Pin) Indicator according to an established standard scale over a period of 6 months, from November, 1928, to May, 1929, with the following results:

	MINIMUM KNOCK RATING	MAXIMUM KNOCK RATING	AVERAGE KNOCK RATING
Fuel A	6	10	9
Fuel B	5	13	8
Fuel C	0	5	2½
Fuel D	3	7	6½
Fuel E	3	5	4½

YOUR TYDOL DEALER NOW OFFERS YOU—

1. The same Hi-test TYDOL (green) . . . Hi-test TYDOL will continue to be the leader of non-premium gasolines—unchanged in quality or price.
2. The new TYDOL ETHYL (red) . . . a de luxe, super fuel with a zero knock rating, at only 3c more a gallon.
3. VEEDOL Motor Oil . . . Made 100% from Pennsylvania and other paraffine base crudes . . . the choice of famous aviators.

Luxurious Yacht For Mussolini

Muggiano, Italy, July 24 (AP).—After an adventuresome career under many flags, the yacht Aurora, 214½ tons, built in 1914, soon will be completely refitted for use as the personal yacht of Premier Mussolini. When finished it will be one of the most luxurious in the world. Among its furnishings will be world-famous paintings given by various galleries of Italy. It will carry two small canoes with which to return salutes of salute.

The "Aurora" was born under an English flag and christened the "Nirvana." The Austrian government before the war acquired her and named her "Taurus." The yacht was sent to Constantinople, when the seat of the Turkish government was there, and placed at the disposal of the Austrian ambassador to Turkey.

During the war Italy seized the "Taurus" and gave it the name of "Marechiaro." After the war the "Marechiaro" was turned over to the navy department and practically passed out of notice for ten years.

When Premier Mussolini, however, expressed a desire to be able to make short sea trips without calling for a ship of war, naval officers thought of the "Marechiaro." It is possible the premier may make use of her this summer.

which all enjoyed. There were about 26 present.

Peter Evans at lower corner has a new Frigidaire in his store. He handles a fine lot of meat, household groceries. It is very convenient for the people in the lower part of town to have these great accommodations.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Marten were Sunday guests of Mrs. Marten's people in Catskill.

Erbel Swift is spending two weeks at Camp Wendy, Walkkill.

THINK DANIEL BOONE
CARVED TURTLE'S SHELL

Indianapolis (AP).—Because its underbell bore the inscription, "D. Boone, 1768," a small, ordinary looking turtle has come under official notice.

The turtle was found by Ralph Lyons of Wingate, Ind., while he was shocking wheat on a farm. Statehouse officials compared the lettering on the shell with those Boone inscribed on a tree when he killed a bear. The signatures bore a resemblance, they said.

If a hoax, those who examined the turtle said, the perpetrator had not lived to know the outcome. The inscription had been made years ago.

Bachelors, whether male or female, have been further discouraged by Italy, which will give married persons preference in selecting state employees.

Marquette

BUILT BY BUICK
BODY BY FISHER
A GUARANTEE OF EXTRA VALUE

"Built by Buick"—only the Marquette in the moderate-price field can offer that priceless recommendation. Everywhere is the unstinted goodness that has forever established Buick in the public mind as a master builder—to provide extraordinary brilliance in performance, unfailing dependability in service, and unlimited satisfaction in ownership.

On its staunch and sturdy chassis the Marquette carries beautiful closed Bodies by Fisher—the last word in modern good taste. Tailoring and appointments of exceptional quality and completeness. And such value features as: a remarkable new non-glare windshield, to be found on no other automobile; adjustable driver's seat; and beautiful new rubberized mohair upholstery, water-proof, dustproof and wearproof—shown for the first time on Marquette.

See and drive the Marquette. Check every feature, make every test.

The Marquette is easy to own. You will be surprised at how economically you can buy a Marquette on the liberal G. M. A. C. Terms.

Chicago Attorney Fears Gangsters

Chicago, July 26 (AP).—Vengeance by violence for the state's attorney's action in closing Chicago dog tracks was predicted today by Pat Roche, chief investigator for the state's attorney.

Roche said he had direct information that "the hoodlums controlled by the dog track interests are to be turned loose on Chicago for a wave of bombings and robberies if we persist in our fight against the tracks."

It has been Roche's contention that the dog tracks provide a large part of the money required to finance Chicago gangs. He estimated that Al Capone, now in jail in Philadelphia for gun toting, took half a million dollars a year from his dog track interests here. The Hawthorne track, twice raided this week, is known as a Capone enterprise.

Owners of horse race tracks in the Chicago area have taken Roche's prediction seriously, guards being placed last night.

All three dog tracks—Hawthorne, Thornton and Fairview—were closed last night following the action of Circuit Judge George Rush in dissolving an injunction which was intended to protect the tracks from police raiders. The two raids this week were made despite the injunction, which the state's attorney's office believed to be inoperative.

Love-Making Added to Arts Lost to Mankind

"Love-making is fast becoming a lost art. It is being practiced with about as much enthusiasm as a hungry man pounces upon a charlotte russe; with as much finesse as a butcher carves a steak," says Paul Mirand, author.

"Love, the sublime passion, the most intense, absorbing and tender of all the emotions is, as a result, in danger of dying a slow, reluctant death."

"It is a great tragedy, but we must face it. We have neither the time nor the place for love-making. Love-making requires leisure and an appropriate setting, and in this modern day we have neither. It is true that love—a fundamental emotion of mankind—can never exactly be done to death. Men and women will always fall in—and out—of love; but it is regrettable that love, so divine, and love-making, so delightful, should become such negligible quantities in our daily lives."

"Love-making once used to be a great art—one which was conducted with artistry, talent, skill and finesse. Today not only men, but women also, are too busy making money to take time to make love."

Eyes and the Tongue

Men are born with two eyes, but with one tongue, in order that they should see twice as much as they say. —Bolton.

Discovery of Vitamins

Vital to Human Race

The greatest discovery of health to the human race have been the result of accident. Columbus, seeking for a short cut to India, stumbled on America. Peking, searching for a means of producing artificial quinine, hit upon sulfate of iron. When Japan and Russia were in the throes of a death struggle for supremacy, Japan's navy was being decimated by beriberi. Laboring to find a preventative for the disease, that was making the Japanese people stricken, some one remembered that a Dutch scientist discovered in 1897 that pigeons fed on polished rice developed a disease which had all the characteristics of beriberi. Orders were issued forthwith to stop feeding the sailors with polished rice and to substitute the whole grain; promptly and without delay, the beriberi disappeared. Scientists, in their efforts to discover the "why," as a famous author expressed it, found the missing link that binds food to health, happiness and achievement—they came upon the vitamins. It was this discovery that enables the human family to keep from starving on a full stomach.

Ancient Surgical Tools

Like Those Now in Use

Surgeons of 2,000 years ago used instruments similar in shape to those of today. This was shown by probes and forceps uncovered in the buried city of Pompeii, and recently exhibited in London. The large number of probes in comparison to other instruments of the collection suggests that cutting was a large part of surgical work before the year 79, when the eruption of Vesuvius buried the city.

While the shapes of the instruments in some cases are almost identical with those of the modern surgical tools, their steel is less flexible. The absence of saws from the collection indicates amputations were rarely attempted, largely because of lack of knowledge about circulation of the blood, says Popular Science Monthly.

Surgery is known to have been practiced at an early date. When Alexander the Great invaded lands east of the Mediterranean in 300 B. C., he found it being practiced by the natives with great skill. There is evidence that surgery was in use in Egypt as early as 5,000 or 6,000 B. C.

Germ

Two-year-old Mary had learned to sing "Ten Little Gears." One morning soon after breakfast, seeing a glass of milk which one of her brothers had left on the table, she picked it up and drank part of it. However, she stopped suddenly and said, "Mother, it has a germ in it!" She had found a crumb of bread.

OUR DAILY PATTERN.

A Popular Sports Jacket (With or Without Sleeves.)

6482. Tweed, rayon, printed or plain linen, tannal and velvet are desirable materials for this model. Roomy pockets are applied on the fronts and a shawl collar finishes the neck. The sleeve is a one piece fitted model.

The pattern for this seasonable style is cut in 6 sizes: 34, 36, 38, 40, 42 and 44 inches bust measure. To make a 38 inch size with long sleeves, will require 2 3/4 yards of 39 inch material. Without sleeves 2 yards will be required. To make collar, facing and belt of contrasting material will require 3/4 yard of 40 inches wide and cut crosswise.

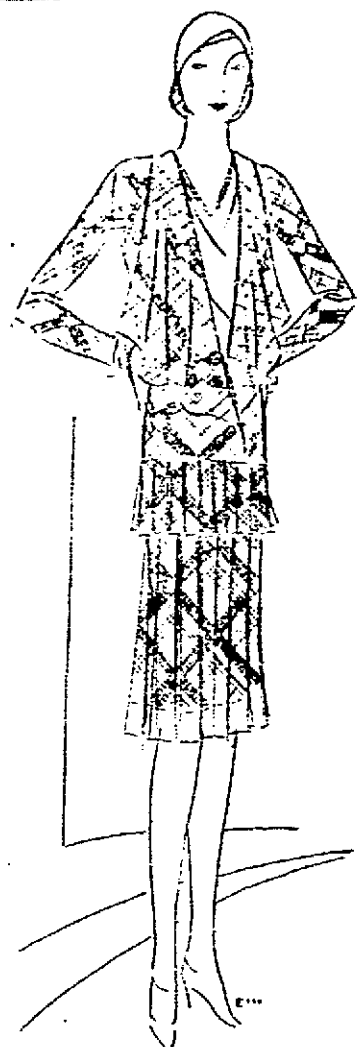

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 12c in coin or stamps by the Pattern Department, The Freeman, Kingston, N. Y. Be sure to state the size wanted.

Fashion Book Notice

Send 15c in coin or stamps for our Up-To-Date Spring and Summer 1929 Book of Fashions, showing color plates, and containing 500 designs of Ladies', Misses' and Children's Patterns, a Concise and Comprehensive Article on Dressmaking, also Some Points for the Needle (illustrating 30 of the various, simple stitches) all valuable hints to the home dressmaker.

Unwise Combination

The Department of Agriculture says that it is never wise to raise cedar trees and apple trees together, since the combination frequently results in the red cedar rust, regardless of the size of the cedar trees.

landscape. Printed woollens are being further experimented with and the anticipated return of embroidered dresses is in line with a feeling for all-over design.

Combinations of brown and red, brown and yellow and brown, yellow and red are being discussed with enthusiasm for fall. These shades are already in high favor, having gained a tremendous impetus from the success of the capucine tones which have contributed their glow to many summer parties. Greens are held in high esteem for current and future wear, they seem particularly favored for evening.

In planning one's fall color scheme it must of course be borne in mind that suntan is a bit harder to get off than it is to get on, and one's complexion is not always at its best during the transition, so that colors one wears are more important than ever.

Ants Aid Prospectors

One way of prospecting in New Mexico is by examining the character of the anthills encountered in the mountain and their vicinity. Any mineral content of the land is likely to be revealed by the piles of soil brought to the surface by the ants, which often reach rather considerable depths in with explorations under the surface. An examination of these pyramids will reveal the character of the material to be found immediately below and in this manner finds of great value have been made.

Rabbit Varieties

There are 18 breeds of domestic rabbits recognized by the National Rabbit Federation as being distinctive in type. In some instances there are several varieties of a breed, alike in size and type but with a wide range in color variation. These breeds and varieties are divided into two separate classes, or groups, known as "utility" and "fancy."

First American Bibles

The first Bible published in America was that of John Elliot, "Apostle to the Indians," translated into the Indian language and printed in Cambridge, Mass., 1691-92. The second was a German Bible from the press of Christopher Saur at Germantown, Pa., 1743, and the third an English Bible printed in 1782 by R. Aiken in Philadelphia.

GIANT STRIDES MADE IN AIR TRANSPORT

Progress in 1929 to Excel Three Years' Total.

Washington.—The development of the aviation and air transport industry during the three years' life of the aeronautics branch of the Department of Commerce has been making this country's outstanding achievement, Secretary Lamont declared recently in surveying the present state of development of the industry.

"With the increasing interest being shown in this subject by the general public, there is every reason to believe that the immediate future will bring forth even greater accomplishments," he added.

Secretary Lamont predicted "the foundations have been laid for a great transportation system over which swift aerial carriers will bear their cargoes of mail, express and passengers to every corner of the globe."

Outlook for Big 1929 Record.

A statistical estimate of the condition of the industry appended to Secretary Lamont's statement indicated that if the present rapid growth in air transport operations continues during the remainder of the year, the operations for 1929 will exceed the total for the last three years.

The report estimated that the mileage flown by air transport operators for the first half of 1929 would total 8,000,000 miles as against 10,500,000 for all of 1928, 8,570,489 for 1927 and 4,318,087 for 1926.

The average of miles flown daily by air transport operators for the first half of the year, estimated to be 70,000 miles, is almost three times as great as the average for all of 1928, which was 23,000, more than four times the average of 16,452 miles for 1927 and almost seven times the average of 10,839 miles for 1926.

Thirty Thousand Miles of Airways.

The total length of the airways network, estimated now to be 30,000 miles, has jumped from a total of 18,067 miles at the close of 1928; 9,121 miles at the close of 1927, and 8,404 miles at the close of 1926. Ten thousand miles of airways, or one-third of the total, are lighted, as compared with 8,038 at the close of 1928; 4,438 at the close of 1927, and 2,041 at the end of 1926.

The greatest increases were shown for the income-producing activities of air transport companies. It was estimated that 40,000 passengers were carried during the first six months of 1929, as against 35,000 in all of 1928, 8,679 in 1927, and 8,572 in 1926. Total mail carried was computed at 3,400,000 pounds, as against 4,001,210 pounds in 1928, 1,634,165 in 1927, and 810,535 in 1926. Express volume was fixed at 1,200,000, as against 2,000,000 for 1928.

There are now 45 companies operating air transport lines, compared to 37 at the close of 1928, 19 at the close of 1927, and 14 at the close of 1926. They have 400 airplanes in service, an increase from 390 at the close of 1928, 125 at the close of 1927, and 69 at the close of 1926.

Visitors Wreck Monkey's Nerves in St. Louis Zoo

St. Louis, Mo.—The seasonal epidemic of nervous breakdowns among the monkeys of the St. Louis zoo is approaching.

Watching the antics of human beings through the bars of their cages all day is very distressing to the nerves of the monkeys, according to the magazine of the Zoological society. Every year, as summer crowds throng the primate house of the zoo, several of the more impressionable monkeys collapse and give way to all sorts of complex and mental ills.

The victims are sent to a "rest house," where the only human beings they have to look at are the keepers, who feed them. Once a year all the monkeys in the zoo take their vacations in the rest house.

Gem-Eating Ostriches Lure Diamond Hunters

Washington.—The finding of 70 diamonds in the claws of two ostriches killed by hunters in the southern part of the Kalahari Desert in South Africa has started a new industry, "hunting ostriches for diamonds," Samuel H. Day, trade commissioner at Johannesburg, has informed the Department of Commerce. One bird produced 58 diamonds and the other 17, all of exceptional quality. It is reported. These ostriches formerly roamed the Namaqualand district, where rich alluvial diamond deposits are said to exist, and, having an eye for shining stones, included diamonds in their diet.

Gold Fish Production Almost Million Dollars

Washington.—Nearly a million dollars worth of gold fish were produced in the United States last year, the Commerce Department announces. The output of hatcheries numbered 21,599, 009 fish.

The gold fish industry had its inception in this country in 1875, when Rear Admiral Daniel Amey presented to the bureau of fisheries a number of fish he had brought from Japan. From that small beginning the propagation of gold fish has developed into one of the foremost fish-farming industries.

Large Meteor In Milwaukee

Milwaukee, July 24.—A meteor of unusual size, estimated to weigh 100 tons, fell near Milwaukee, Wis., and burned bright in the Milwaukee sky on the 24th.

It left a stream of smoke and phosphorescence in the sky that lasted several minutes, and left a large, dark, circular hole in the ground. Twenty thousand people witnessed the event, and many of them reported that they saw a large, dark, circular hole in the ground.

Professor Edwin R. Frost, in charge of the Western Observatory at Williams Bay, Wis., said the meteor was a mass of 100 tons.

Court Held in Plane Over California Canyon

Los Angeles.—The "heir to, heir to" of a Los Angeles court landed high in the skies as Superior Judge Albert Lee Stevens continued his airplane hearing on a land condemnation deal.

The airplane was called into use by Judge Stevens when he was confronted with condemnation proceedings brought by Los Angeles county in San Gabriel county, where a score of gold claims must be abandoned to make way for a dam.

To become better familiar, the judge held the hearings as the plane soared over the canyon, attorneys for both sides arguing their cases above the hum of the motors.

Plant Thrives in Bottle Without Air or Water

Boston.—Can a plant grow without air? This question arose when Capt. Ed Forbes of the schooner Gossoon brought to port a bottle, apparently airtight, in which a plant, believed of the gulf weed variety, was growing. The bottle, found floating in the La Jolla fishing grounds, was tightly corked, but the plant seemed to be thriving despite a lack of air and moisture.

Kilauea Volcano Again Active

Volcanic House, Island of Hawaii, July 25. The Kilauea volcano, which has been dormant since 1820, again was active today, the first eruption being the first of the Kilauea series.

The first eruption yesterday morning, was marked by a great column of lava that shot up 150 feet from the bottom of the pit. They gradually grew stronger, however, the day until the column attained a height of 100 feet while many smaller eruptions appeared in the crater.

The floor of the lava pit became a burning caldera.

Late last night the volcano exhibited some new prophecies, the activity showing no sign of abatement. Lava spouted to such a height that it took six seconds to fall back to the floor.

Thrifty Music Lovers "Paid" for Their Seats

When Mrs. Nellie Melba once was on tour of Australia, some of the leading citizens in a little town she visited decided there was no reason why they should pay to hear her sing, says an article in London The-Bits. And so, dressed in their best, they walked to the hall, then slipped around to the side of the building, where they found a ladder leading up to the roof of the hall.

Up they climbed, and placed themselves around an open skylight, through which they heard the concert perfectly. While it was in progress the caretaker remembered he had left the ladder out, so he put it away in a shed. After the concert the party on the roof discovered that their "exit" had disappeared. There was a 25-foot drop, and none of them, in their Sunday best, cared to risk it. So they were forced to sit on the roof to a blinding wind, until about 4:00 a. m. they attracted the attention of a policeman, who rescued them.

The Choo-Choo Desire
In the London Saturday Review Mr. Stenardale Bennett records this interesting human phenomenon:

"I have known at least two great scholars (one an Aristotelian, the other a constitutional historian) who would race for railway bridges, to see the trains pass underneath and arrive deliberately early at a terminus (when making a journey), so that they might gaze in admiration at the engine and even proudly mount the footplate and talk with the driver."

We have felt that way ourselves. Small boys who wish to grow up and become locomotive engineers are at last completely justified.—New York Post.

Britain's Government

Air View of British Houses of Parliament.

(Prepared by the National Geographic Society, Washington, D. C.)

THE British general election which recently turned the government over to the Labor party and reversed numerous policies, brought into prominence the cabinet form of government which differs markedly from the form followed in the United States. During the past two decades one of the outstanding world developments has been the spread of the responsible cabinet system.

Before the World war broke up the autocracies of Europe, France was the only republic on the continent employing the British form of cabinet government. Now the list includes, besides France: Finland, Estonia, Latvia, Lithuania, Poland, Germany, Czechoslovakia, and Austria.

Recent agitation to permit members of the United States cabinet to be present on the floor of the senate and house and to take part in debate on matters concerning their departments serves to bring out the differences between the privileges and duties of the cabinet members of various countries.

To begin with, the "cabinet" of the United States is a cabinet in name only, for the government of the United States is in no sense a "cabinet government" as are the governments of Great Britain and France, and those of a large number of the other leading countries of the world. There is not even formal sanction for the existence of our cabinet as an advisory council to the President. The members have an undoubted legal status as heads of the various administrative departments, but the President need never call them together. President Washington held no cabinet meetings at first, and President Wilson did not call his department heads together for a period of many months. When the President does receive the advice of his cabinet, he is under no obligation to follow it.

Great Britain is "the mother of cabinets" as well as "the mother of parliaments." Her cabinet is not of a fixed size, and while most members are heads of departments, there may be members "without portfolio" who have no special duties. In direct contrast to the situation in the United States, every member must be a member of either the lower or upper house of parliament. All have seats in both houses and therefore not only have the privilege of debating but also of voting. Of greatest importance, when an important vote in the house of commons goes against the cabinet its members must resign so as to permit a new cabinet, usually of the opposing political party, to be formed.

The cabinet, under the British system, is really a committee of the house of commons which the party in power permits to manage all executive affairs, and to shape and lead all legislative action. The cabinet in action is the real government; while it functions the prime minister is the real ruler, and parliament is his instrument.

But there are checks and balances. The house of commons can force the resignation of the cabinet, and the cabinet can force the dissolution of the house. The matter is thus put squarely up to the people, who elect another house, from the majority party of which a new cabinet is chosen.

Practically all of the other part of the western world is under cabinet government. This includes all of Europe except Russia and Switzerland, South Africa, and the French portions of North Africa. Canada brings a large part of North America into the cabinet column. In the East, Australia and New Zealand have true cabinet governments. Japan has a slightly modified form, and China a nominal one.

The constitutions of most of the countries of the western hemisphere have been modeled after that of the United States with an absence of responsible cabinets. Chile is the only republic of the New world with a cabinet whose members both sit in congress and must resign when there is a formal vote of "lack of confidence."

Traced Back to Runnymede.
The British cabinet form of government came into existence by a series of happy accidents. Because the old privy council became such a large, unwieldy body, the king fell into the habit of consulting with only the few leaders, holding a small council in his cabinet or private apartment. Shortly afterward England had two German kings who could not understand English, and the "cabinet council" was permitted to meet without the sovereign. By the time an English-speaking king came to the throne the custom of excluding the king from cabinet meetings had been firmly fixed.

By degrees the king practically lost his power to dismiss the cabinet, and it became responsible first to parliament, and then solely to the house of commons.

Some students of government, looking further back, see the roots of parliamentarism, with its outgrowth, the "cabinet committee," at Runnymede, where Magna Carta was signed 714 years ago.

Runnymede lies only five miles down the Thames, from Windsor, the town which holds the most sumptuous of the palaces of the British kings and which gave its name to an English family name to the present monarch when, during the World war, his German name became unacceptable. The meadow is only some twelve or fifteen miles upstream from London—so close that the city's citizen soldiers maintain a rifle range for practice on the edge of the famous tract.

There is a conflict of opinions as to whether Runnymede or Magna Carta Island, just off shore, was the site of the signing of the Great Charter. A generally accepted version of the historic incident states that the army of barons encamped on Runnymede, that King John's followers remained on the opposite bank of the stream, and that the meetings between the monarch and the leading barons took place on the little island. A cottage on the island houses a stone slab on which it is asserted that the document was signed.

Value of the Great Charter.
Though the original "Articles of the Barons" were signed on June 15, 1215, the day on which they were presented, the provisions were not put in the form of a charter and executed by John until June 19; so this day also might lay claim to the title, "Magna Carta Day." Four more days were taken up with the making of provisions for carrying out the charter. During the entire period of a week and a day the baronial army remained encamped under arms at Runnymede, while King John rode over each day from his palace at Windsor.

The Great Charter which was signed at Runnymede or on its nearby island has been pretty well accepted as the greatest document in English history. Some commentators have gone so far as to see in it the creator of the English constitution of today. Other English students of the charter feel that it did not differ materially from other charters granted by earlier kings, but that it has been especially valuable on account of the dramatic situation surrounding its signature and of the ideals, formulated because of the reverence for the document shown by subsequent generations. According to such views it harbored the germs which later developed into the writ of habeas corpus, trial by jury and the parliamentary system.

A very large part of Magna Carta was devoted to restraining the king's taxing powers and to setting out feudal procedure, the latter a field now wholly without practical interest. Nor were all the steps taken in Magna Carta forward steps. It sanctioned the trial by ordeal, provided credible witnesses were present. One paragraph provides that no one shall be arrested on the appeal of a woman, except on the charge of causing the death of her husband. The reason assigned for this "reform" was that a woman could not prove her case in the judicial combat.

Smoking Among Sailors
In the days before matches were invented, a lamp was lighted at certain times aboard ship when smoking was permitted. All smokers got their pipes lighted from this lamp. With the introduction of the safety matches, sailors of the navy may carry them, but the spirit of the smoking lamp still prevails, since there are only certain times of the day when smoking is permitted.

Schooner Vessels
The first vessel of the schooner type is said to have been built in Gloucester, Mass., about 1713 by a Captain Robinson. When the vessel was launched a bystander exclaimed, "O, how she scoons!" Whereupon Robinson said, "A schooner let her be." "Scoon" means to skip or skim on the surface of the water.

Father Dooley's Brother at Sawkill

His Eminence Cardinal Hayes has appointed the Rev. Andrew J. Dooley as the new pastor of St. Ann's Catholic Church at Sawkill with Rury as an out mission. It is not often that two brothers are pastors of churches in the same county. The new pastor's brother is the Rev. William T. Dooley of Wilbur and Redville.

Father Andrew J. Dooley was ordained June 1, 1912, and served in Spring Valley and Marmaroneck. For the past thirteen years he has served in the church of St. Catherine of Genoa, West 153rd street, New York city. He is a graduate of Fordham and Dunwoodie Seminary.

Market for Fruits And Vegetables

New York, July 25 (AP).—State Department of Agriculture and Markets.—The price trend on upstate New York Big Boston lettuce was active today and prices tended upward. Crates of 24 heads whole, packed principally at 50-75 cents. In a few instances sales on some strictly fancy were reported at 1.25 and 1.50. Some inferior worked out at 35 cents.

Western iceberg lettuce advanced. The latest receipts realized 1.00-1.25 per crate. On the corresponding date last season state Big Boston sold at 55 cents to 1.25 and western iceberg at 1.00-1.25.

Virginia white cabbage was in short supply and the market firmed. With most business transacted at 1.00 per crate of approximately a hundred pounds.

Long Island yellow onions made the season's first appearance. They showed good quality and size but met a very limited outlet. A few sales were made at $3.00 per sack of 100 pounds. Most of the Orange county yellow onions were selling around $2.50.

Arrivals of Hudson valley mushrooms were moderate. The demand was a trifle better and values averaged higher. Three-pound baskets of white mushrooms peddled out at $1.75-$2.25.

Liberal supplies and light buying resulted in a further decline on upstate New York green peas. On the other hand the moderate offerings from Washington found a prompt outlet at a slight advance. Bushel baskets from this state jobbed out at $1.25 to $1.75, occasionally as high as $2.00. Sales on crates of about 50 pounds from Washington were consummated at $5.25 to $5.50.

Upstate New York spinach was in limited supply. Fancy curly Savoy met a ready sale but other varieties dragged. Lettuce crates and bushel baskets wholesaled at $2.00-$2.50 on the fair to good and at 75 cents to $1.50 on the poor to ordinary.

Handkerchiefs Used to Make Attractive Frock

Five kerchiefs in an imported red and white printed pattern, with white border, were used to fashion this attractive frock. One kerchief was used for the novel collar, while two were used for the finger-tip length blouse.

Earliest Flour Mill.

The first water wheel was erected in Ireland about 200 A. D. at the command of King Cormac in order to lighten the labors of a beautiful bond maiden. In a few centuries they became quite common. Thus was introduced into Ireland the mill for grinding grain. Such mills were owned by lords, who demanded a percentage of the grain sent to be ground. Private ownership of these mills and of the quern, an everyday implement for grinding grain in the family, was forbidden.

What Makes Our Friends

It is not seeing one's friends, having them within reach, hearing of and from them, which makes them ours. Many a one has all that, and yet has nothing. It is the believing in them, the depending on them, assured that they are good and true to the core, and therefore could not but be good and true toward everybody else, ourselves included.—Dinah Mulock Craik.

POULTRY

VITAMINE NEEDED IN CHICK RATION

Liberal Use of Milk Quite Essential for Chickens.

A vitamin required by poultry and hitherto unrecognized, has been discovered by L. C. Norris, G. F. Hensler and H. S. Wilgus, Jr., of the Cornell university agricultural experiment station. This vitamin which is contained in milk is essential for the growth of chicks and for the prevention of a peculiar type of paralysis which may result in incurable deformities.

The discovery was in part accidental and resulted from an attempt to get a chick ration low in calcium and phosphorus, which would be suitable to study the requirements of chicks for these minerals. Casein, a purified milk protein, was used as the main source of protein in the experimental ration. When it was used in place of milk the chick ration was found lacking in this vitamin which prevents paralysis.

The experiment demonstrates that the use of liberal quantities of milk is essential where chicks or mature birds are confined indoors and are not provided with succulent green feed. To conclude from this experiment that milk should invariably be used in all poultry rations would be unwise, they say, as good chicks have been reared in the past with little or no milk and good winter egg production has also often been obtained with rations which contained no milk. It is probable, therefore, that this unknown factor is present in slight amounts in meat products, cereals and cereal by-products, and in large amounts in succulent leafy green feeds.

Barred Plymouth Rock Favored to Caponize

One of the best breeds of poultry for caponizing is the Barred Rock as the sex can be determined at an early age. The cockerels will be light and the pullets dark and when the chicks are about six weeks old and weigh close to one and a half pounds each, the poultryman can go into his colony houses with a spotlight and collect cockerels as fast as he can pick them up.

In caponizing such breeds as Rhode Island Reds or White Wyandottes, it is more difficult to pick out the male birds at an early age, says a writer in the Michigan Farmer. Considerable accuracy is possible by studying the heads. The male birds soon appear more coarse and have a harsher voice than the pullets. Pullets of any color soon develop what might be called the feminine type of head. It is smaller and more refined than the head of the male bird. The heads, beaks, and even the undeveloped combs on male chicks have a different appearance from pullets.

Some breeders caponize White Leghorn cockerels and make them weigh as much as six pounds but in general the caponizing is confined to the heavier meat breeds like the Barred Plymouth Rock, Jersey Black Giant or Light Brahma.

Various Good Points of the African Goose

The African goose has had at different times several names, among which were China goose, swan goose, Chinese swan, Guinea goose, Spanish goose and others. Its origin is unknown, but it is quite probable that it originated in a cross between the goose we now call the China goose and the Toulouse, and from this cross, was perfected until it is now an enlarged kind of a Brown China goose.

The African goose lays better than any of the other larger breeds and it grows to be as large as any other. Specimens that were given the best care have grown to weigh 25 pounds, but the standard weight for a full-grown African goose is 20 pounds. They are very hardy and easy to raise. They are very watchful and know strangers from those whom they see every day. When a stranger comes among them they set up a clamor that notifies every one within hearing that something out of the ordinary has happened.

Plenty Good Features

Poultry houses that are built today are sensible; though they have plenty of fresh air, they have no draughts, though they contain more hens to the square foot, there is no dampness which is so fatal.

Two essentials that can be bad for the taking are provided—sunlight and fresh air—and with these there is no reason why we should not have the healthiest race of fowl found on the face of the globe, and as a result an increased production of eggs.

Ventilation Essential

Ventilation is another essential of modern poultry housing. A good ventilation system supplies fresh air in the poultry house without making it subject to sudden temperature changes. Ventilation removes dampness and eliminates foul odors, making the flock healthier and more comfortable. Automatic ventilation systems are now on the market which consist of intake flaps in the back of the house and a cupola on the roof to carry out foul air.

French Need But One More Match

Roland Garros Stadium, Paris, July 25 (AP).—France seemingly blasted America's tennis hopes today by sweeping both opening singles matches of the Davis Cup challenge round. Henri Cochet, the French ace, crushed Big Bill Tilden in straight sets, 6-1, 6-1, 6-2, after Jean Borotra had vanquished George Lott, youthful American, 6-1, 3-6, 6-4, 7-5.

The double setback came as a severe blow to the challengers, who now face the forlorn task of winning the remaining three matches to lift the cup. All France needs now to remain supreme for the third straight year is to win one more match, either in the doubles tomorrow or in the remaining two singles contests Sunday.

SAFETY AUTO RIM PREVENTS ACCIDENTS

A new and remarkable device which is expected to end the toll of accidents caused by tires "blowing out" while vehicles are in motion was recently demonstrated to members of congress at Washington. The device consists of a heavy inner rim slung to the wheel which takes the weight of the car should the tire collapse from any cause.

IGNITION SYSTEM NEEDS ATTENTION

It Is Easy to Check Up and Find Smallest Gap Possible to Use.

Present-day engines with faster speed and higher compression have created a condition that requires more attention to the automobile's ignition system than ever before, an engineering bulletin just issued, says.

The bulletin prepared by Hector Baberman, spark plug engineer, of this important information:

"Spark plug gap settings which formerly were more or less standardized at .025 to .030 inches must be now at .018 to .022 inches and distributor points, in most cases at .015 to .020 inches.

Higher Sparking Voltage.

"Higher compression means higher sparking voltage for a given gap. Higher speed has a tendency to reduce the time it takes the coil to build up, and in order to normalize these conditions, the spark plug and breaker point gaps should be reduced in order to keep the sparking voltage on the same level.

"The higher speed of the engine reduces the amount of current which flows into the coil and requires a smaller gap in the breaker or interrupter to compensate. A smaller gap has the advantage of giving an extra length of time to the current for building up in the coil, so it is advisable to set the contact point at the smallest normally operating gap that is possible.

Ignition Systems Differ.

"It is not possible to make a rigid rule in regard to distributor points as to the case of spark plugs, because the various ignition systems differ so widely in their construction and characteristics that some of them may require only a .005 gap, while others need a gap as high as .020 in the breaker. Nevertheless it is easy to check up and define the smallest gap that it is possible to use, and the majority of ignition systems will work satisfactorily with a gap of about .015 to .020.

"When gaps are too wide the motorist will generally experience engine trouble at high speed, although he may get satisfactory performance at low speed. On the other hand, too small a gap may work at high speed, but likely will be unsatisfactory at low speed, because it will not make a clean break, preventing the coil from delivering a high enough sparking voltage to the plug."

The bulletin recommends checking the ignition system every one thousand miles, and especially inspecting the breaker contacts, because it is important that they be clean and square, and spaced as described above. For cleaning, a fine file and some No. 00 sand paper is all that is needed.

In addition to the breaker points, the spark plug gaps and ignition cable should also be checked during the inspection, "which altogether requires only five minutes and will be worth a thousand miles of improved engine performance," the bulletin adds.

THE MOTOR QUIZ

(How Many Can You Answer?)

Q.—What part of the 3,000,000 miles of roads in the U. S. A. have been surfaced?

Ans.—About one-sixth.

Q.—What is the total highway mileage of the world and what part of this is in the United States?

Ans.—6,500,000 miles, half of which is in the United States. Of the improved roads more than half are in the United States.

Q.—How does the mileage of travelable roads compare with the railroad mileage?

Ans.—The mileage of travelable roads is four times greater.

Floor Treatment

Under hard usage wax is preferable to varnish for a hardwood floor. A wax which has been varnished may be worn. There is no better preparation for the same floor than wax.

Rights of Road Hogs

Are Upheld by Court

Road hogs have as much right to a place on the highway as motor vehicles, according to decision handed down by Judge Walter M. Pickett of New Haven, Conn. John Blondi of East Haven, whose automobile was wrecked when the driver, William Green, hit a tree to avoid a drove of rumping porkers, had brought suit for $2,000 damages against Gerardo Triunfo, owner of the animals.

Much Wear Is Caused by

Slipping Action of Tire

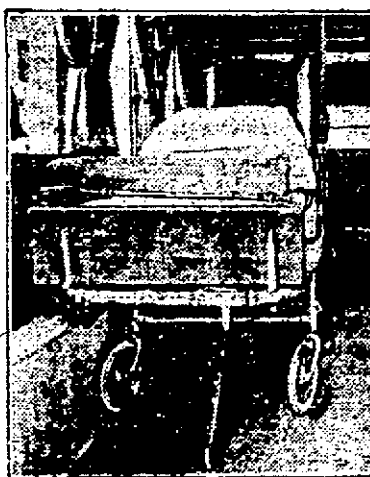

"Don't," reads the old rule, "reverse the direction of rotation of tires if you want to get the most mileage from them."

But times change, and rules change with them. Today the bureau of standards suggests that it may be desirable to change the direction of rotation of tires occasionally in order to reduce the wear through "scuffing."

The old theory was that when a tire's tread had become accustomed to taking strain in the one direction it was best to let it go along in the same old rut throughout its entire life. When the garageman changed a tire many car owners were careful to see that the tire went back on the wheel in such a way as to roll in its accustomed direction.

But the latest tests show that much tire wear is due to a constant slipping action known as "scuffing" and suggests that much of the peculiar wear on the treads could be spared by occasionally reversing the direction of rotation of the tires.

Another practice that runs into money is running into hydrants.

A career of crime can't be so much, economically, if you have to steal a second-hand car every time you leave town.

Seventy steam railroads are using motor trucks for short hauls and terminal service, according to the Chicago Motor club.

A recent decision of the United States Court of Appeals is that the pedestrian has the right of way whenever he steps off the curb while the "go" sign of a traffic signal is with him.

Poison's Effect on Snakes

The Biological Survey says that snakes have resistance to their own poison, like all poisonous animals. However, they can be killed by a great amount of their own poison.

TIDE RIPPED MOON AWAY FROM EARTH

Opinion Advanced by Government Scientist.

Washington.—Tidal action like a gigantic hand which wrenched away a portion of crust from the earth and hurled it into space to form the moon caused the world's oceans and continents.

That is the opinion held by William Bowie, chief of the division of geodesy, United States coast and geodetic survey, in backing the hypothesis advanced by osmond Fisher.

Fisher contended that the disruptive force was either a violent explosion or a tidal action. Bowie, from his research, discounts the explosion, stating that there is some doubt whether the scattered pieces could have assembled and formed the moon, while tidal action, aided by bodily oscillations of the earth, is easily creditable.

The hypothesis, according to Bowie, is the best explanation of why granites were pushed or pulled into piles as they are on the earth. Under the planistmal theory, there is no accounting for the collection of such granites in certain spots.

Lifting the veil of the past, the earth is seen as a dense, molten mass slowly being covered with a shell of lighter material rose to the surface and cooled. The coating was of granite, while the inner part was made up of basaltic material like lava.

The vast force which disrupted the crust ripped off the shell where the Pacific ocean is located. The large granite blocks, forming Europe and Africa on one side, North and South America on the other, gradually drifted away. Between them, like a huge river, the Atlantic ocean formed.

The disrupted crust, cast into space, formed the moon. To support this formation of the moon, it is pointed out that the density there is just about the density of the outer portion of the earth down to a depth of 90 miles.

The crust of the earth must have been 30 to 40 miles thick in order to have furnished material enough to have made the moon. The volume of the outer shell of the earth now covered by the oceans.

Without the gigantic hand reaching down to strip off a piece of crust, the earth would have a shell of granite and an underlayer of basaltic material.

Damage in Short Time

Tulsa, Okla.—Tyde Winterholder of Oklahoma was arrested last night for having damaged a telephone pole, which was snapped. He backed up a four foot terrace, wrecked a rubber plant, then smashed the front porch of a home.

Winterholder drove his car into a tree. The next obstacle was a telephone pole, which was snapped. He backed up a four foot terrace, wrecked a rubber plant, then smashed the front porch of a home.

Driving while intoxicated was the charge preferred against him when he was arraigned in police court.

Financial and Commercial

New York, July 26 (AP)—Stock
prices continued to move irregularly
today with the excellent character of the current market. Industrial and public utility statements apparently offsetting the growth stimulating effect of credit conditions. Trading was largely professional, small speculators generally showing little inclination to add to their commitments with the prospect of another money squeeze around the end of the month.

Call money renewed at 5 per cent,
as against a yesterday and 1 the day before. Only a moderate supply of funds was available because of the heavy withdrawals by interior and foreign banks within the last ten days. Time money continued firm.
Steels derived considerable stimulus
from the increase in the Bethlehem dividend, and the large first half year's earnings. Bethlehem moved up to a new peace-time high at 123 and United States Steel common, which had been sluggish earlier in the week,
advanced 3 points.

General Electric was again a speculative favorite, soaring 12 points to a new high record at 275. American Telephone also moved into new high ground, although the management disclaimed knowledge of any special developments to account for the recent sharp advance in that issue.
Westinghouse Electric jumped nearly 7 points and Westinghouse Air Brake crossed 54 to a new peak.

Coppers responded to reports of a better demand for the red metal.
Greene Cananea being marked up 3 1/2
points, American Smelting 2, Anaconda 2 1/2, and several others point or more.

Public utilities were well bought,
with General Gas and Electric A.
North America Company and Utilities Power and Light a selling at new peak prices. Pacific Telephone jumped 7 points. Sharp gains also were recorded by Underwood-Elliott, Fisher, Commercial Solvents, International Match Preferred, National Cash Register, Majors Motors, Auburn Auto and St. Joseph Lead.

Consolidated Gas sank 3 points to a new low at 61. Radio fell 3 1/2 points after its recent sharp advance. Hearings also cropped out in Western Union, Allis Chalmers, Lackawanna and Delaware and Hudson, all off 3 points or more.

Gets Marriage Ritual,
but They Want Divorce
Carthage, Mo.—A young couple, arm
in arm, entered the County courtroom
here while the three judges were discussing crime waves and divorce evils.
The county clerk entered the room at the same time, and on seeing the couple directed the judges' attention
to them.
"There," said one jurist in an under-tone to his two conferees, "is a mighty nice looking pair. See how loving they are? But I hope they will continue that way after they are married."

The clerk broke three matches and held them before the bar, the judge drawing the shortest one to read the marriage ritual.
The two young people were beckoned forward and asked if a license had been obtained.
"We don't want a license, your honor," the male member of the duet responded. "We want a divorce. We're already married."
The two bench members gasped
while the third hurriedly recovered his equilibrium. The clerk was not heard from.
"Yes, your honor," the veteran groom continued, while his wife smiled
serenely on. "we've been living together all the time."
"We like each other an awful lot,
but think we are just unsuited to one another. We've talked the matter over thoroughly and have agreed a friendly divorce is the best thing for both of us. And we want you to divorce us in order to escape a lot of newspaper no-torie."

The judge who had drawn the shortest match referred them to an attorney.

Fishermen Tell of Being Towed by Whale

Boston, Mass.—Being towed in a dory for nearly a quarter of a mile
by a whale is an experience calculated to inspire nightmares.
Joe Sousa and Antonio Joseph, Portuguese fishermen, reported just such an adventure when they arrived here
recently on the schooner Angie B.
Watson.

Believe it or not, here's their story:
They had a halibut rigout and were on the standing part of the gear when it began to haul harder than usual.
Fifty fathoms of line was brought up and coiled down, and with the hook and loomed the head of a humpback whale. The whale towed the dory about a quarter of a mile. Then the fishermen cut the line and the whale disappeared.

WOODSTOCK LIBRARY TEA WAS SOCIAL SUCCESS

For the second of the summer series of library teas being given at Woodstock, which was held at the beautiful home of Mrs. G. Jodvad on Wednesday afternoon, George Barre, Dublin, gave an interesting talk on "Behind the Scenes," before an audience numbering well over one hundred persons.

Mr. Barre, whose music education began in his native country, Ireland, gave to his remarks a personal and point that could hardly have come from an American-born musician. His talk was light and witty, and gave many "behind-scenes"
observations about American audiences which were received with laughter and applause.

To illustrate his points on "expression," the speaker produced his golden flute and played from Gluck's
"Orpheus," some a solo that was beautifully rendered.

The large home of Mrs. Jodvad was given over to the guests of the afternoon, who were artists, musicians and writers from, and visitors to, the Woodstock colony. Refreshments were served following the talk.
The speakers, guests and hostesses at these library teas have been very generous in their donations to the plan launched by the library directors for the summer's benefits for the local library. Due to the fact that prominent Woodstockers have kindly consented to speak for these fortnightly
teas, visitors at the colony, and folks residing within driving distance, can be promised a cordial reception and enjoyable afternoon for subsequent library afternoons. The next tea is announced for August 1 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Chichester, when John Kingsbury will talk on
"Serbia."

INDIANS' WEALTH EBBS WITH OIL

Osages of Oklahoma Face Radical Cut in Their Income.

Washington, July 20. (Bureau New York.) The Osage Indians, who, in 1906, accepted the northern Oklahoma domain that bears their name from the federal government, for better or worse, when the land did not have even an ear of corn, but who have prospered as far as it goes, since January 1, 1929, a total of $222,577,585.74 by virtue of one of the world's most valuable oil discoveries, may in time revert to the financial straits of other Indian tribes, says the New York Times.

For it was announced a few days ago that members of the Osage tribe are now on a $25-a-week basis, unless they have surplus funds. Disinclined to production, this announcement states, has cut down the amount they receive in royalties and bonuses. It further reveals that when the last quarterly payment was made to the Osages, amounting to $1,000 per capita, it was necessary in some cases to draw on the surplus of various members of the tribe.

This announcement follows by two months the decision of the secretary of the interior that the leasing of Osage oil lands is to be restricted to 25,000 acres annually, as compared with a former unlimited of 100,000 acres auctioned off annually. The restriction grows out of the desire of the government to conserve the nation's oil supply.

Once Wealthiest People.

The Osages thus reduced to $35 a week were once the world's wealthiest people per capita. When the tribal rolls were closed on July 1, 1907, there were 2,220 members, designated as headrights, to participate in the tolls from the Osage nation. This included adults and minors; any other children born into the tribe were to participate only by inheritance. More than twenty-one years have passed and more than 600 of those originally enrolled have died; but payment is still made to 2,220 members of the tribe—for not a single member has died without leaving one or more heirs. Between July 1, 1907, and July 1, 1923, there were 478 born to reap by inheritance the fortunes of the Osage lands.

Some of these same Osages, now receiving $25 a week, are among those who in 1926 received $13,400 each in five payments and who have been paid something more than $30,000 each, since Edwin B. Foster proved in March, 1906, that there was oil under Osage lands. For years they have gathered around their mecca—Pawhuska, Okla., so named from Principal Chief White Bull, Pawnee—on the periodic auction sales, to hear the nation's leading oil operators bid for leases on the quarter-section blocks—more than $1,000,000 each in many cases. And they have watched the Burbank field rise in production to 125,000 barrels daily in 1923, one-fifth of which came to them as royalty.

The Osage region has been the most consistently active oil area of any producing territory in the world. Since operation began there have been 16,042 wells drilled in the county up to July 1, 1923, including 10,003 oil wells still producing, 790 gas wells on production, 2,750 dry holes, and 1,931 oil wells and 503 gas wells depleted. Osage production to July 1, 1923, totaled 370,420,877 barrels, and at that time the daily yield was roundly 63,000 barrels. Early in 1923 Osage county produced more than a third of the oil of Oklahoma.

Oil production rose to a figure in excess of 60,000 barrels daily. The daily yield of the county on June 1, 1923, had dropped to 2,000 barrels.

Three Factors Involved. More than one factor besides decreased production is contributing to the present depleted income of the Osages. Lower prices than the average maintained over the other long period are now in effect. The reduction of the allotment of acreage to be annually auctioned cuts materially into the coffers of the Indians, for the receipts of these sales are distributed among the 2,220 headrights periodically. The most interesting factor, however, is one of royalty arrangement—a production situation which determines whether the Osages get one-fifth or one-tenth of the crude oil produced.

In contrast to the customary one-eighth royalty generally received by the government and the individual from lands, the Osages draw one-fifth royalty from all leases where wells average 100 barrels or more daily. Where the wells on a lease average less than 100 barrels daily the royalty is reduced to one-sixth. This arrangement grew out of sheer "horse trading" on the part of the Indians more than two decades ago, where oil operators, like the government a few years ago, had little faith in the rough hill country anyway. This unusual royalty agreement was drawn up in the early days, when the 1,700,000 acres in Osage county could have been leased for the price later paid for a single quarter-section in the heart of Burbank field.

The Tribal Arrangements. The Osage tribe is responsible to the secretary of the interior of the United States through the commissioner of Indian affairs, who as commissioner over all Indian tribes in the country serves as mediator between the secretary and the superintendent of the Osage agency at Pawhuska. The superintendent has a staff to work out details of Osage business matters in the case of oil and gas and the actual contract is through a chief oil and gas inspector, representing the government in the Osage. In turn the tribe is responsible to a principal chief, an assistant and a council of eight members, elected by popular vote of the tribe for a term of two years.

The turn of affairs in the Osage financial situation is especially serious in that individually and collectively they have little financial reserve in spite of the wealth that has poured in on them for more than fifteen years. Frugality has never been common among the Osages. They are spenders to the last dime, and price seldom entered into the turn of a deal where the Osage was concerned. Financial agents are common in Osage county, the government having found that many of the wealthy Indians were incompetent, incapable of wisely spending their income. These agents, for a retainer's fee, administer the business affairs of the Osages.

Fine automobiles, jewelry and clothes and other luxuries, that came through the oil to these people, to change their previous mountain lives of hunting and raising corn, may go with the tightening of the purse strings. Whether the average Osage would care much if such a condition did result is an interesting speculation, for it may be doubted if the new order has brought them any greater degree of contentment.

St. Louis.—"Louie's Place," rendezvous of the "Slim" Lindbergh and his pals of the air mail line, must pass to make way for progress. It has been decided that in converting Lambert field into a $2,000,000 municipal airport, the little frame lunchroom where many famous pilots ate their meals during the lean and obscure days, must be torn down.

Scores of flyers, now leading figures in aviation, have spent long hours "down at Louie's"—on rainy days when argument waxed hot about propellers, motors and "ceilings" or on cold windy nights when conversation paused as the distant roar of motors told of another fellow taking a chance.

"Louie"—Louis de Hatre is his full name—says he's going to start a new and fully equipped restaurant. He's going in, he says, for wallpaper, white-tipped tables and electric lights.

But many a pilot will never forget the spluttering lamp, the wooden bar and board walls of Louie's place.

Hitching Posts Must Remain in Marion, Ind.

Marion, Ind.—There is one group of hitching posts in Marion which continue to defy the edicts of changing conditions, and recently were given a new coat of paint to preserve them against the encroachment of time. A loyal citizen of a past generation, Martin Boots, deeded land to the county for a courthouse, but with certain restrictions, one of which was that the ornamental hitching posts must be properly maintained.

As there was no provision for modification of the terms of the grant as times might change, a sufficient number of the posts will be kept in their old positions—odd reminders of the age-old horse-drawn vehicles—to live up to the letter of the contract.

Mountain Lake Farm Holds Party

Whiteport, July 20.—Old friends and new friends of Hugo Schroeder, conductor of Mountain Lake Farm, joined together in a party held in the spacious dance hall at this summer resort on Wednesday, July 24. Mr. Schroeder's organization and accommodations have expanded and as a result the attendance was "bigger and better" than ever before, 125 guests participating.

The party was the result of pleasant cooperation between Mr. Schroeder, the guests and a committee of six of which William Grunewald was chairman. The committee included Mrs. Frances Revet, Mrs. Braun, Miss Cornelia Secundo, Gustave A. Grunewald, Albert Mangin and William Grunewald. G. Knipe of Staten Island contributed his extensive knowledge of similar affairs in an advisory capacity. Adrien Revet, Mrs. Frances Mangin, Bernard Werner and Mrs. Knipe gave valuable assistance to the committee in decorating the hall and arranging the evening's program and entertainment.

A touch of novelty was added when cowbells were used to announce the start of the affair. The prompt response of the guests to their call was pleasing and in a short time the attendance proclaimed the affair a success. William Grunewald opened the evening with acknowledgment to the guests, the committee and Hugo Schroeder and his personnel, requesting all to join together in a happy evening.

Miss Thea Stenzel of Astoria, L. I., contributed her versatile talents to the entertainment by playing excerpts from "Martha" and singing "In Old Madrid." Miss Stenzel received exceptional applause. The young lady was called upon to accompany William Grunewald as he sang the ever lovely "Last Rose of Summer." For this number the two artists were given generous applause.

Mr. Rollins played several guitar solos. The quiet dignity of his renditions was keenly appreciated. Mr. Roth accompanied George Thompson at the piano as he gave two vocal comedy numbers. Mr. Thompson inspired everyone with the fun of it as he requested them all to join in. These gentlemen gave a splendid performance. Mr. Thompson's ready wit was an invaluable aid to the evening program.

Fritz Bartsch in response to popular calls sang several German songs. The response to his selections was enthusiastic and appreciative. Little Bobby Shannon played the harmonica very much to the delight of all. His playing was a credit to his youth. Monroe Ehret gave a ukulele solo. Mr. Ehret is a master of the "uke" and pleased everyone. Gustave A. Grunewald, who is spending his vacation here with his family, played his piano generously throughout the evening and played with Mr. Ehret in several duets. These gentlemen are in as perfect accord musically as they are in friendship. A dance prize was awarded to Carl Miller and Miss Gertrude Kruse. Popular acclaim left no doubt as to their ability.

Miss E. Shultz, a visitor from a neighboring camp, won a prize as a result of her accuracy in the "donkey game." Miss Shultz was pleasantly surprised by her prize. Mrs. Savoder was the holder of the lucky number awarded as a door prize, much to the satisfaction of all.

Among those who attended the affair, the following names appeared: Palmer, Dobler, Socinol, Mr. and Mrs. Krehlwein, Mr. and Mrs. DeFranco, Miss Secundo, W. Coski, Hartman, Pinke, Robert Durree, S. Maly, Mr. and Mrs. Mangin, D. Franklin, Mr. and Mrs. Revet, Kimbacher, J. Keen, S. Shlussuer, Mrs. C. Knipe and children, Mr. and Mrs. Opitz, Mr. and Mrs. Ehret and daughter, W. Grunewald, Warner, Wald, Kaub, Mr. and Mrs. Assmuth, Mr. and Mrs. Schneider, Mrs. Heidler and others.

Throughout the evening refreshments were served under the auspices of the committee and Hugo Schroeder. Mrs. Hartman, chief of Mr. Schroeder's personnel, made every effort to encourage a pleasant evening, contributing her best efforts to that end. The party was an unusual success. It was enjoyable, carefree and friendly.

FEELS LIKE A NEW MAN SINCE USING THE NU-ERB

Mr. Charles Steel Says That It Quickly Routed
His Health Troubles After All Else Had Failed

Scores of men and women everywhere are daily praising the great herbal remedy, Dr. French's Nu-Erb. Many remarkable stories are told about how this famous medicine relieves many different forms of health trouble after other so-called remedies and treatments had failed. Here is a recent statement given by Mr. Charles Steel, who for the past year has resided at 7209 Stevenson Ave., Niagara Falls, N. Y.

MR. CHARLES STEEL

"For many years I have suffered from stomach, kidney and liver ailments and although I tried many medicines, there was nothing that ever seemed to help me," said Mr. Steel. "I was in constant misery because of indigestion, gas, sourness, sick dizzy spells and floating spots before my eyes. I had a dull, aching pain across my back and my kidneys called me up many times each night. I'd also get severe headaches, nervous spells, slept poorly at night and had no appetite. My joints and muscles ached with

"Although I was entirely discouraged over medicines of all kinds, I heard a lot about Nu-Erb and decided to give it a trial. I used a treatment of six bottles and it has entirely overcome each one of these troubles. My stomach, liver and kidneys are in splendid shape now. Nu-Erb has stopped the indigestion, dizzy spells, backache, headaches, my nerves have been quieted and I sleep the whole night through without being disturbed by my kidneys. I am feeling like a new man in every respect and it is some time now since I stopped using the Nu-Erb and I have never found it necessary to use any medicine since. Nu-Erb is really the only medicine I had ever found that would do what is claimed for it and for that reason I will always recommend it."

McBride Drug Store, 312 Wall Street, Kingston, is headquarters in Kingston for Dr. French's Nu-Erb. Go there and let them explain to you the merits of this remarkable medicine.
